

January 2, 2009

After putting this off for nearly 3 years, I finally put pen to paper on a flight to Boston. This is a travel journal, a collection of my best memories (or sometimes only memories) from the places I have been. Rough chronological order will be attempted, but is not guaranteed. Take dates with a grain of salt. Always be a traveller; never be a tourist (Bourdain).